International Opportunities for Second Language Studies
Open to current undergraduate, graduate students, & alumni from SLS and other language departments (AND students curious about pursuing a major in the College of Languages, Linguistics, and Literature)

Want the inside scoop on finding the perfect job that puts your SLS knowledge and language-related skills to work nationally or in a country you’ve always wanted to see? Ready to jump head-on into a new culture and adventure after graduating with a BA or MA? Come to the March 6th job fair on language teaching! Experienced representatives & alumni will give you the insider tips you need to find the perfect job for you. They will share their advice on the application process and their experiences to guide you on your path.

Ready to head off to Kazakhstan, Sri Lanka, Colombia, France, or South Africa? Curious to know more about the English Language Fellow program, EPIK, Fulbright, JET, Peace Corps, or Teach for America?

These representatives, and more, will share their tips with you!

See you there!
Sinclair Library, Heritage Reading Room
Thursday, March 6
12:00 noon – 1:15 p.m.

Come hungry for knowledge, leave full.