CALLING ALL JAPANESE STUDENTS... studying English is TOUGH, and so is studying Japanese. Find a kindred spirit in a JPN 212 student and help with the creation of a simple For Your Information PAGE for Japanese students studying at UH, to be published on the Web.

THE PROJECT: The publication of a simple FYI PAGE for Japanese students studying at UH, a fun thing which provides some fun information about 'local' life and leisure... such as where you can hear the best live music or eat the best Hawaiian food...nothing technical, just day-to-day living in Hawaii.

GETTING TOGETHER: Japanese students and JPN 212 students will meet in small groups (3 to 4 students) where Japanese students will 1) inform the JPN 212 students as to the kind of information they as Japanese college students studying in Hawaii are interested in having, and 2) assist the 212 student in generating a limited amount of written text (in Jpn) from the information they've gathered. In exchange for assisting 212 students with their project, 212 students will provide the Japanese students with an opportunity to practice speaking in English and serve as English speaking informants, in a language exchange type format.

We hope to be able to schedule at least 4 meetings (more if schedules and time allow) with the first meeting taking place sometime next week 4/15-4-19 if possible. This promises to be a great chance to find out more about Hawaii from a local perspective and to meet some interesting new people. Please come and be a part of this.
